*Principal's Report
Submitted at Annual Meeting held
Jan. 12 1920*

To The Directors
of The Margaret Eaton School of Literature and Expression:
Madam President:
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I have the honor to present to you the report of
The Margaret Eaton School of Literature and Expression for the year 1918 - 1919.

We have completed twelve years of our existence and are well entered upon the thirteenth year, and like a healthy, vigorous child, we are realizing our responsibilities and also finding our place in the large family of educational bodies which have for their aim the advancement of Art and Education. Looking back upon the early years of our work we may congratulate ourselves on the results achieved, and on the outlook of today. Undoubtedly, like all children, we have made mistakes, but withal we have gradually developed a strength of character which promises well for the future. This school occupies a position in the educational community today which endows it with great responsibilities. Its influence has been gradually extended and appreciated until we now find ourselves a corporate body whose activities have created respect in all institutions of learning in our own city and elsewhere, and to prove this, let me tell you that our graduates are now found as instructors in the following institutions: the Y.W.C.A., Technical School, Glen Mawr, Moulton College, Branksome Hall, The Blue Triangle, St. Mildred's College; Four hundred Public School teachers are being taught in ten different centres, our own Eaton Club of almost two thousand students; we have sent a teacher to replace Dr. Annie Ross at Macdonald Hall, Guelph; to Bishop Bethune College, a teacher of Expression, the heads of all the City Hospitals and University College, Knox College, and St. Michael's included teachers from the faculty of this school who are giving instruction in Voice Culture and Dramatic Art. The Central Office of the Y.W.C.A. has asked for fifty teachers which we could not supply. The London Academy of Art also wants an instructor in Dramatic Art.

The American Women's Club is registered with us for instruction in the study of the History of Literature. Work in the School and Extension has been strengthened by the appointment of several new teachers. Mr. Lewis Dwight Fallis A.B., late professor at Queen's University, came well recommended, and is proving to be a strong asset to the faculty of the school and at Knox College and St. Michael's. With the hope that he might awaken a universal interest in Public Speaking, we have given him great publicity as a teacher of this Art. In the Department of Technique of Expression, where Miss Thomas seemed to fail, he is proving very successful.

Miss Baskette, a graduate of this school, several years ago, came back from the South to take charge of our accompanist work and to supplement the teaching of Social Dancing. Miss Hodgkins, a graduate of the Sargent School, comes to us a fully qualified teacher in Playground Work, Folk Dancing, and Social Service. The children's departments are filling up and we have found a splendid teacher in Miss Phyllis Strathy, an undergraduate of this school, in Expression.

In the new Hart House Movement we were able to give the manager two students to play the leading roles in "The Queen's Enemies" and the Chester Mystery Plays.

Since last we met in our annual meeting, we have been approached by the Directors of the Toronto Conservatory of Music with regard to the amalgamation of their Department of Expression with ours, Dr. Vogt saying that they sought union with us "because we want just such a strong academic basis as yours". Mr. R. Y. Eaton and Mr. Vaughan, with Mrs. Eaton's consent and Sir John Eaton's approval, worked upon this scheme, and the amalgamation came into effect with the beginning of this school year on the basis that all students coming to us through them should give the Conservatory fifteen per cent of fees. From an academic standpoint we are to recognize all their teaching as far as it is compatible with our ideals, and give them standing thereby. As a result we have several graduates working very happily with us in Voice Culture, Deportment and Physical Education.

This year something has come to us that we have long desired. About the first of September, 39 Dundonald Street was placed in our hands to experiment with, as a residence. Thanks to an army of workmen from the T. Eaton Co. Ltd. this house was changed from a three suite apartment into a fourteen room dwelling house, simply furnished, and suitable in every way for a students' residence. ^{at 15/-} A cook, and house-keeper, in the person of Miss Armstrong, with Miss Thomson as head of the house, comprise our household. Three students arrived that day and took up their residence. This house came to us too late for announcement in the School Calendar, and so it was not filled with students at the beginning. Miss Hamilton was looking for an apartment for herself, her two sisters and Miss Strathy, so on advice from the Private Office, we leased her three rooms on the first floor for the year. The house is now full, sixteen in residence. Next year we can arrange for two more. We were honored in having Mrs. Burwash in residence for several weeks, and she can tell you perhaps better than I, what a comfortable, well-organized place it is, for she helped by her presence to make it what it is.

The financial report will be found elsewhere, but the auditor tells me "it is reasonable to expect that it will be self-supporting when filled with students". Anyway it is off to a good start, and we are hoping that the residence will help our school in every way, and why may it not help us financially as Annesley Hall helped Victoria College?

With Mrs. Eaton's consent we want to call it after her - The Margaret Eaton School Residence.

This year is a good one for education and we have a large increase in numbers. There are four hundred and thirty registered at the

The Margaret Eaton School of Literature and Expression
Toronto

at the Extension and over six hundred at the School. What pleases us most is the long list of thirty-five taking the full two hundred dollar course, for we have increased our rates this year from $ 150. to $ 200. and we are adding half a term to our course. It is a pleasing thing to note that ~~we are~~ there is an increased interest in the Voice Training and Expression courses. During the war, the demand was not for education because of its developing power, but "Give me something I can teach, and by which I can earn money in the quickest way". That idea is still prevailing but this year many of our students are registered for personal development.

May I tell you, Mrs. Burnside, on behalf of myself and our Directors, how pleased we are to have you with us. In these days of the High Cost of Living, it is well to have our treasurer in our midst.

To you, dear Mrs. Eaton, and our directors, I respectfully submit this report, and in conclusion may I say that I, too, have been reminiscing during this year of Jubilee. It is just seventeen years since first I visited in your home and you and Mr. Eaton were so kindly interested in ~~my~~^{this} work. It is just thirteen years this month since our School was opened, a little more than a quarter of the time that has brought you to this Golden Jubilee. So when we grow discouraged, if ever we do again, let us remind ourselves of this golden year, remembering this - the same great man, the same great heart, and the same great soul with the big brain that gave life to this colossal commercial enterprise, stepped aside long enough to investigate and to probe, and then gladly to give and proudly to build this school and call it by the name of the woman he loved. He gave us this school, not only "because mother wants it", but because he believed in its fundamental teaching. "Tell Dr. Burwash what you have told me", he said, "and then go out and buy the land". Dr. Burwash had faith and just before he left us he said "This school will come into its own after the war. You are twenty years ahead of your time."

This year we are coming into our own - a great school with a great future, and our Golden Jubilee ahead.

Yours to keep the vision and the faith of our fathers,

Emma Scott Haswell -

Principal.

Notice is hereby given that the Annual General Meeting of the Shareholders of the Margaret Eaton School of Literature and Expression will be held on Wednesday, November 3rd, 1920, at the residence of Mrs. Eaton, 182 Lowther Avenue, Toronto, at 7-45 o'clock, P.M.

Dear Mr. Eaton:

Thank you for the note received this morning.

I hope you will approve of the changes I have made in the list sent me by Mr. Livingstone.

Miss Ross did not have a third year in Literature, therefore I think her bonus, considered in relation to the others, is ample at five hundred dollars. Miss McFetridge has given so much extra time to rehearsals and costuming, that she is entitled to at least two hundred and fifty dollars.

The protest from the teachers does not apply to this year, but was in regard to the salaries for next year.

The following cheques have been issued today:

Miss Ross	$ 500.00	600
Miss Hamilton	$ 350.00	350
Miss McFetridge	$ 250.00	100
Miss Thrall	$ 200.00	200

Thanking you for your kind consideration,

Faithfully,

Emma Scott Macnith

Principal.
